New File All images can be opened in Photoshop by simply selecting a file in the program's Files menu. Select Save As from the File menu and enter a new filename. Alternatively, you can right-click on an image to save a copy to the desktop. No image-editing software program will ever replace skilled photographers who are able to capture beautiful images.

Creating a New File Any previously saved image that has been opened can be saved again by opening the Photoshop file that contains it.

Creating a New File Create a New File Change an Image's Width There are a number of ways to change the width of an image. Because a number of processes produce various results, this section will offer several techniques to alter a photo's dimensions. The original size can be viewed by clicking the Image menu, selecting Properties, and scrolling down to the Size menu. The first method involves changing the width of a photo's canvas itself (not the image). To do this, ensure that the image is the active layer in the Layers panel. Change the Width To change the width of a photo's canvas, double-click anywhere in the image and enter a width in the dialog box that opens. If the width is different from the original, the image will enlarge by the amount entered. You can also right-click or control-click anywhere in the image, as long as you are in the Layers panel, and select New Width from the context menu. Changing the Width I recommend this method if you want to fine-tune the image by moving the canvas to an exact place in the image. You can also move a photo after changing the image width fetch data from mysql to a particular time I want to get Data from MYSQL to particular time from a particular time. For example - i have to fetch the data from

12:00 PM to 15:00 PM. How to do it. A: To do it in MySQL you'd use the Time functions: `SELECT * FROM table WHERE timecol BETWEEN '12:00 PM' AND '15:00 PM'` If you want it in your PHP code then you can use `strtotime()` to convert the time in the SQL statement. Q: Запрос к БД с промежутком времени Проблема вот в чем. Необходимо из таблицы вывести текст материала, который был последнее обновлен в то время когда пользователь был входив. Делаю такой запрос: `SELECT * FROM `mytab` WHERE `mytime` IN (SELECT `time` FROM `mytab` WHERE `somefield` = '111') ORDER BY `time` DESC` Он не выв
